

The reason I wanted xm radio was because I was tired of Clear Channel deciding what I listen to. Freedom of choice is the right of the consumer, and local media has the right to compete. They should not, and do not, have the right to force out competition. It reeks of monopolism.